A group of children, mostly boys, are cheering at a parade. They are wearing red t-shirts with a white heart logo on the back. Some children have white pom-poms attached to their shirts. They are holding large, shiny pom-poms in their hands. The background is blurred, showing other people and colorful decorations.

A large pile of yellow egg pork sausages is displayed in a wicker basket. The sausages are tied in loops and have a distinct yellowish-orange hue. They are arranged in several layers within the basket, which is placed on a wooden surface. In the background, another wicker basket is partially visible, containing more sausages. The lighting highlights the texture and color of the sausages.
